This past year Custer State Park turned 100 years old. The goal of Custer State Park has always been to continue the long tradition of stewardship and finding a balance between use and preservation. That tradition has been established from our beginning and carried out by those prior.

Staff has stopped to reflect on what the vision is as we begin the next 100 years. As stewards of the land, what do we need to do to live up to the vision of Peter Norbeck, founder of Custer State Park? Norbeck stated early in the development of Custer State Park, “See this park as I see it, and I do not think there is a single argument against preserving this land for the future. Fifty, 75 years from now, my only wish is that the picture I see today will not have faded. If I could come back somehow, say 75 years from now, and be greeted with the same trees, the same rugged canyons and towering mountains, I shall know I died a man who fought for something worthwhile. Knowing that I somehow helped preserve a special part of America is all I ask out of life.”

Custer State Park was set aside to be enjoyed through exploration of scenic drives, or getting out of your vehicle and taking a hike on one of the many trails that offer close encounters with nature. For those who are quiet and tread lightly, the opportunities are endless to experience wildlife in their natural setting — to sit down and enjoy the sounds of the chickadees or watch the chipmunks scurry around. Water lovers can choose to paddle a serene lake in the early morning light while watching the ripples of trout as they welcome the morning sun. There is something for everyone to explore.

Behind the scenes, staff are committed to Norbeck’s vision of finding balance between use, preservation, sustainability and the curve balls Mother Nature throws at us. Staff come to work day in and day out ready to play ball. We are always looking for best practices and strategies to keep with Norbeck’s vision. We can’t stop the evolution of Mother Nature, but we can strive to find the balance between use and preservation.

Tread lightly as you explore Custer State Park, so the same views, landscapes, and spires you’re experiencing today are there for your children, grandchildren and future generations to explore and admire. Help keep the picture you see today from fading.

THINGS TO KNOW
PARK RULES
Regulations are designed to protect both park visitors and park resources. Park rangers enforce the park’s laws and regulations.

» DO NOT approach the buffalo.
» Do not feed or disturb wildlife.
» All vehicles must stay on designated road ways.
» Drones in South Dakota state parks are permitted but must follow state park and FAA rules and guidelines.
» Open fires are prohibited unless in an approved fire grate located in campgrounds or picnic areas.
» Pets need to be on a leash no longer than 10 feet. Pets are not allowed in any park buildings or on designated swimming beaches. Please clean up after your pet, and do not leave pets unattended. Service animals are welcome.
» Removal of any natural or cultural features such as rocks or artifacts is prohibited.
» Any person, regardless of their residency, who is able to lawfully possess a firearm/pistol can conceal their weapon without permit while in South Dakota.
» Visitors are not allowed to jump or dive from bridges, rocks or cliffs into any of the park’s lakes.
» Only state-sponsored geocaches are allowed in the park.

The Custer State Park zoo opened in 1923 as an additional tourist draw for the newly created park. It was located where the current visitor center stands and remnants of the zoo enclosures can still be found in the area today.

Two caves were blasted into the granite and several cages were built by George A. Nicholson and John P. Larsen who worked for Peter Norbeck’s company — Norbeck and Nicholson Co. — a deep artesian well contracting company. They left Redfield, S.D. and worked out in Custer State Park for over a month, preparing the zoo’s six cages.

Norbeck tasked a man named Doolittle (not the doctor) with management of the day to day operations of the zoo. A position he held on to for over 30 years.

Over its 50 years of existence, the area was home to several Rocky Mountain goats from Banff National Park in Canada, monkeys, five adult black bears (one with a cub) which came from Washington, a moose from Yellowstone, elk, sitka deer, foxes, badgers, northern otter, coyotes, wolves, an albino beaver, wild boar, porcupines and all types of waterfowl. It wasn’t all easy going in the beginning; Doolittle once wrote Norbeck asking for reinforced cages as one night one of the bears broke into the moose’s habitat, mauling and killing it. Norbeck was disappointed to hear of the news, but agreed to reinforce the cages after the incident.

One thing the Black Hills can thank the park zoo for is the mountain goat population, as it is a non-native species. In 1922, park staff coordinated with an inspector in charge of the Canadian National Park in Banff, Alberta. The original deal was to bring 12 goats from Canada to the park, but they could only supply six — two males and four females. The goats were placed on a Montana Bison Range and Mr. Hawley, Custer State Park’s Deputy Game Warden, was sent to pick them up and bring them across the border. The goats came at a price however. Banff National Park charged Custer State Park $100 for each sheep, almost $1,500 in today’s prices.

The mountain goats arrived in the park in 1923, but didn’t stay long, only three days in fact, before escaping their enclosure and heading to the Cathedral Spires. This is where they stayed and planted roots, and now the goat population numbers 150 across the Black Hills.

The zoo rose in popularity over the years and by 1950 visitation reached 400,000 annually. The zoo was maintained in the park until 1970s. At that time, it was closed, and the park began to focus more on the natural wildlife plan of the area.

Some of the animals were released into the park, but many of them were sent to other zoos, as park staff knew they would not survive on their own.

When you see mountain goats and many other wildlife in the area, you are most likely seeing the descendants of their ancestors that started out living at the park zoo.
WILDLIFE
KEEP YOUR DISTANCE
When viewing wildlife, please remain in your vehicle or stay at least 100 yards from bison, elk and other animals. Regardless of distance, if any wild animal changes its behavior due to your presence, you are too close. Please back away.

CUSTER STATE PARK WILDLIFE

Custer State Park is one of the few places in the world where you are able to see an abundance of wildlife in their natural habitat. Visitors may encounter a variety of wildlife throughout the park’s 71,000 acres, including along trails, in the campgrounds and beside the road. Wildlife Loop Road is particularly known for its common sightings of buffalo, pronghorn and prairie dogs, but keep an eye out for white-tailed and mule deer, elk, bighorn sheep and a host of birds and smaller wildlife as well. For the best results, travel the loop during the early morning or later in the evening, when wildlife are most active.

ELK
Elk are the second largest member of the deer family with only moose larger. Mature bulls grow and shed heavy, wide antlers each year. They are shy and seldom seen during the daytime hours. They are best found in early morning or evening hours.

COYOTES
Coyotes hunt in all habitats of Custer State Park. Their diet is varied, but consists mainly of small mammals.

MOUNTAIN LIONS
Chiefly nocturnal and reclusive toward humans, mountain lions are found within the Black Hills and Custer State Park. These predators feed on several species, including deer, elk, rabbits and wild turkeys.

BIRDS
The park’s diverse habitat makes for exciting bird watching. Visitors can find the mountain bluebird, white-winged junco, golden eagle, prairie falcon and western tanager, to name but a few.

BIGHORN SHEEP
A herd of Rocky Mountain bighorn sheep was reintroduced to Custer State Park in 1922. Rams have thick, curled horns and ewes have smaller curved horns.

HUNTING: A MANAGEMENT TOOL
Some animal species in the park are managed through hunting programs. Hunting helps reduce the size of populations, preventing overcrowding within the park. Control of numbers ensures an adequate supply of food for all species and prevents habitat loss and competition between species.

Most hunting seasons typically occur from mid-September through early January. Turkey hunting takes place in the spring from mid-April through mid-May each year.

The fees collected from hunting licenses generate revenue which help fund wildlife management programs.

Species managed through hunting in the park include bison, elk, deer, pronghorn, mountain lion and turkey.
PRONGHORNS
Pronghorns, commonly referred to as antelope due to their similar appearance, live on the open grassland. The name pronghorn comes from the buck’s large pronged horns. The horn sheaths are shed each year. The fastest land animal in North America, pronghorns can run 60 mph for great distances.

MOUNTAIN GOATS
The mountain goat was not found in South Dakota until 1923, when it was introduced to the Black Hills. Today, they are found in the granite outcroppings and crags around Black Elk Peak, Needles and Mount Rushmore areas. The all-white mammal feeds on grasses, ferns, moss and lichen among other high-elevation plants. Both sexes have sharp, slender, black horns.

PRAIRIE DOGS
The black-tailed prairie dog is found on the dry, upland prairie. It is a rodent that lives in large social groups called towns. Prairie dogs get their name from their bark-like call.

WHITE-TAILED DEER
White-tailed deer live mainly in the timberlands. As its name implies, the white-tailed deer has white hair on the underside of its tail. When the animal runs, the tail is flipped up and looks like a waving white flag.

MULE DEER
These deer are aptly named for their large ears. Their black-tipped tails, which are short and narrow, are carried down when the deer runs. Mule deer often bound with a stiff-legged gait as if bouncing on powerful springs when they flee.

PLEASE DON’T FEED US!
Feeding the park’s wildlife is prohibited. In fact, feeding any wild animal can be dangerous to both you and the animal.

BURROS
The burros in Custer State Park are not native to the Black Hills. They are descendants from the herd that once hauled visitors to the top of Black Elk Peak. The rides were discontinued years ago and the burros were released into the park.
SCENIC DRIVES
TUNNEL INFORMATION

Tunnels are found on three highways in or near Custer State Park. Drivers of travel trailers, campers, recreational vehicles and buses should be aware of the tunnel sizes. Note: The following tunnel measurements are the most current.

Iron Mountain Road — US 16A N
Doane Robinson 12' 0" Wide 11' 4" High
C.C. Gideon 11' 6" Wide 10' 9" High
Scovel Johnson 10' 9" Wide 11' 0" High

Sylvan Lake Road — SD 87/89, North of Sylvan Lake
Hood Tunnel 8' 9" Wide 9' 8" High

Needles Highway — SD 87 N
Needles Eye Tunnel 8' 0" Wide 9' 9" High
Iron Creek 8' 9" Wide 10' 10" High

NEEDLES HIGHWAY | 14 MILES
» Expect travel time of about 45 to 60 minutes.
» Closed in the winter.
The Needles Highway is more than a 14-mile road – it’s a spectacular drive through pine and spruce forests, meadows surrounded by birch and aspen and rugged granite mountains. The road’s name comes from the needle-like granite formations which seem to pierce the horizon along the highway.

IRON MOUNTAIN ROAD | 18 MILES
» Expect travel time of about 45 to 60 minutes.
This winding road runs between Mount Rushmore National Memorial and the junction of US 16A and SD 36. Constructed in 1933, only a portion of this road lies within the park, but it is a must-see.
Along the highway, visitors will find wildfire exhibits, pigtail bridges, magnificent Black Hills scenery and tunnels that frame Mount Rushmore.

WILDLIFE LOOP ROAD | 18 MILES
» Expect travel time of about 45 minutes.
» Open year-round.
The 18-mile Wildlife Loop Road takes visitors through the open grasslands and pine-speckled hills that much of the park’s wildlife call home.

PETER NORBECK SCENIC BYWAY
» Expect travel time of about two to three hours.
The Peter Norbeck Scenic Byway complements the park’s three scenic drives and includes some of the most dramatic natural and historic features in the Black Hills.
Sites include the Needles, Mount Rushmore and a bird’s eye view of the rocky peaks and forested hills of the Black Hills National Forest.

take your time
These winding drives are best enjoyed at a slower pace. When making plans, please allow ample time to travel at a safe speed – generally 25 miles per hour or slower.
“You’re not supposed to drive here at 60 miles an hour. To do the scenery half justice, people should drive 20 or under; to do it full justice, they should get out and walk.”
-Peter Norbeck

PARK PROGRAMS

JUNIOR NATURALIST | AGE 7-12
PUPS PROGRAM | AGE 4-6

Custer State Park offers two programs for our younger visitors to learn and explore the park around them. Each program is broken out into different levels of activities.

INTERPRETIVE PROGRAMS

Weekly interpretive programs are provided at Custer State Park visitor centers and education center. Current schedules are posted in the campgrounds or can be picked up at any of the visitor centers.

Come join us at any of these great programs and explore the park.
The park began to gather the herd back in the 1960s when the decision was made to eradicate the disease brucellosis from the herd. The herd was certified brucellosis free in 1965 allowing the sale of live animals. Since that time, the roundup has been used in conjunction with the fall sale as a way to manage the size of the herd and to provide an opportunity to brand and vaccinate the calves.

“Studies show that during normal moisture years, the park’s grassland can support about 1,400 head of bison,” explains Chad Kremer, herd manager for Custer State Park. “That number fluctuates depending on rainfall and the available rangeland forage.”

The buffalo are on their own to forage. The park does not supplement their food supply.

“We inventory the range conditions each year and that determines the number of buffalo we sell at the fall auction in November,” says Kremer. “We need to keep the buffalo numbers compatible with available forage, and that is why you may see varying numbers for the size of our herd. This year we have about 1,300 buffalo in the herd, and we’ll be building back to that target number of 1,400 in the future.”

Kremer points out that for Custer State Park, the Buffalo Roundup is a management tool to prepare for the annual buffalo sale. But he says, “It is an event that is open to the public, and we are happy to share it with the thousands of guests who come to experience something out of the old west.”

“It truly is a magnificent sight to see—buffalo rumbling across the plains driven by cowboys and cowgirls on horseback. It takes you back to days gone by and lets the spectators catch a glimpse of old west history,” adds Kremer.
BUFFALO ROUNDPUP
FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 2020

» The roundup takes place near the corrals on Wildlife Loop Road.

» Two viewing areas are set aside for spectators — the north and south viewing areas.

» Arrive between 6:15 and 7:30 a.m.

» The buffalo are usually corralled around noon, with sorting to take place at the corrals starting at 1 p.m.

» Reservations are not required.

» Food concessions available on site.

» Free park entrance Friday, September 25.

ARTS FESTIVAL
SEPTEMBER 24-26, 2020

Enjoy three days of continuous entertainment along with over 100 arts and craft booths near the State Game Lodge on Hwy 16A. Visit with artisans and crafters from across the Midwest as they exhibit and sell their wares.
Beat the winter blues and escape to the park! During the months of January, February and March, the park offers a variety of guest speakers at the visitor center. Topics vary from history to wildlife management and even live music.

Winter is a great time to explore the park; the season brings a quiet serenity to the place and there are fewer visitors to share it with. During the months of January, February and March, the park takes guests on a series of guided hikes. If there is enough snow, guests can experience snowshoeing throughout the park free of charge; however a park entrance license is required.

Snowshoes are available for check out from January to March. Stop by the visitor center to get fitted and learn about which trails are best suited for snowshoe hiking.

During the month of December the visitor center takes on a holiday feel with the Festival of Trees. Local businesses and community partners decorate trees which are on display and visitors can vote for their favorite.

WINTER ROADS

Note some roads may be closed during the winter. Please check SD 511 for the most up-to-date road information.
LAKES AND STREAMS
SWIMMING
Swimming is allowed at the park’s five lakes: Center Lake, Legion Lake, Stockade Lake, Sylvan Lake and the Game Lodge Pond.

There are no lifeguards on duty. Jumping from cliffs and rocks into the water is illegal and strictly prohibited. Pets and glass containers are prohibited from all zoned swimming beaches.

BOATING
For your safety, wear a personal flotation device (PFD), or life jacket, whenever you are on the water. PFDs are mandatory for all people riding in a boat on South Dakota waters.

Boating is permitted within Custer State Park with the following restrictions:
» Sylvan Lake, Electric motors only
» Legion Lake, Electric motors only
» Stockade Lake, All boats allowed
» Center Lake, Only slow, non-wake boating allowed

FISHING
Fishing is allowed anywhere in Custer State Park. A valid South Dakota fishing license is required and can be purchased online at gfp.sd.gov.

Anglers will find rainbow, brown and brook trout in the park’s waters. Only one trout can exceed 14 inches, but there is no minimum size restriction. (Stockade Lake has a 15-inch minimum size limit on large and smallmouth bass.)

It is legal to use artificial lures, flies, worms or other bait. A variety of sport and panfish are found in Stockade Lake including northern pike, bass, perch, crappie, bluegill and bullhead.

Licenses, bait and tackle are available at each of the four resort areas. For daily limits and rules, please refer to the 2020 Fishing Handbook, available at the visitor centers and the park office. The handbook is also available online at gfp.sd.gov and on our mobile app, SDGFP Outdoors.

There is a non-refundable reservation fee of $7.70 for non-residents.
A $2 fee is assessed to all phone reservations.

Camping fees for the entire stay must be paid at the time the reservation is made.

Cancellations
If you cancel your reservation, you will be charged one night’s camping fee for each campsite reserved or $25 per camping cabin.
Because of its unique use, French Creek Horse Camp cancellation policy is:
» 30 or more days before arrival: you will be charged one night’s fee for each campsite reserved.
» 29 - 14 days prior to arrival: one-half of your entire camping fee.
» Less than 14 days prior to arrival: non-refundable.

SAME DAY RESERVATIONS

Center Lake Campground
» All open sites can be reserved beginning at 6 a.m. MT each day.
» Checkout time is noon MT.
» Campers occupying a “same day reservation” site must call before 6 a.m. MT to extend their stay.
» Campers are required to occupy their site by 10 p.m. MT on the night of their arrival. If they fail to do so, they are charged a cancellation fee and forfeit the remainder of their reservation.
CAMPING
Camping fees are collected daily and are based on the number of camping units in your party. A camping unit is a powered vehicle, motorhome, camping bus, pull-type camper, tent or any other device used for sleeping.

Additional tents for a family (parents or grandparents and minor children) are considered a single camping unit.

CHECKOUT
Checkout time for campsites is noon and 11 a.m. for camping cabins.

PRIMITIVE CAMPING
For a primitive outdoor experience, backpackers should try the French Creek Natural Area. Hikers using this area can camp anywhere along the canyon bottom. Open fires are prohibited. Campers must self-register at the stations located on each end of the natural area. The fee is $7 per person, per night.

JUNE 12 – 20
Comedy | Rated PG
The Odd Couple tells the story of two mismatched, recently divorced roommates. Felix Ungar, a neurotic, neat freak news writer moves in with Oscar Madison, a slovenly sportswriter. Neither is quite sure why their marriages fell apart and after they move in together to save money, they suddenly discover they’re having the same conflicts and fights they had in their marriages. Originally a hit Broadway play, and later the inspiration for a film and TV series, The Odd Couple has become a centerpiece of American comedies.

JULY 3 – 19
Musical Comedy | Rated PG-13
With 10 Tony nominations including Best Musical, Something Rotten! is a “big, fat hit!” (New York Post). Set in the ’90s – the 1590s – this hilarious smash tells the story of Nick and Nigel Bottom, two brothers who are desperate to write their own hit play while the “rock star” Shakespeare keeps getting the limelight. When a local soothsayer foretells that the future of theatre involves singing, dancing and acting at the same time, Nick and Nigel set out to write the world’s very first MUSICAL!

JULY 24 – AUG 9
Musical Comedy | Rated PG
When Monty Navarro, the black sheep of the D’Ysquith family, finds out he is ninth in line to inherit a dukedom, he decides to eliminate the other eight heirs standing in his way. Witty and ceaselessly entertaining, A Gentleman’s Guide to Love and Murder treats the audience to an Edwardian style, classic farce, and stunning operatic singing. With non-stop laughs, a unique and soaring score, and unforgettable characters, A Gentleman’s Guide to Love and Murder has become an instant classic.

AUGUST 14 – 23
Drama | Rated PG 10+
Fifteen-year-old Christopher has an extraordinary mind: He is gifted at mathematics, but ill-equipped to interpret everyday life. He has never ventured alone beyond the end of his road, he detests being touched, and he distrusts strangers. Now it is 7 minutes after midnight and Christopher stands beside his neighbor’s dead dog who has been speared with a garden fork. Join Christopher as he embarks on a thrilling journey to solve this mystery that upturns his world.

Black Hills Playhouse is located at 24834 S Playhouse Road in Custer State Park. A park entrance license is required.
