CENTENNIAL TRAIL

(Red)

The Centennial Trail is 22 miles long as it crosses the Park. It is not a loop trail but bisects the Park from North to South. Three trailheads are located along the trail. Iron Creek Trailhead on the northern boundary, Badger Hole near Legion Lake, and the French Creek Trailhead near Horse Camp. The Centennial Trail is marked with brown fiberglass posts and gray diamonds.

TRAIL #1 - FRENCH CREEK and MOUNT COOLIDGE

(Green) Riding time: 9 hours

Ride out of Horse Camp (northeast) following French Creek downstream. Approximately 4 miles out watch for the Calkins Draw sign pointing left out of the canyon. The trail climbs from French Creek and intersects an old logging road. Follow the logging road to CSP 8 then turn left riding the road to Heddy Draw. Ride Heddy Draw (west) and after climbing a steep hill you will intersect Hwy 87 on the side of Mount Coolidge. Cross the highway, turn right (north) and ride through the trees until the trail intersects the gravelled Mount Coolidge road. Ride the road up to the lookout tower and return on the same route. After crossing HWY 87, instead of riding down the steep hill you came up take the right hand logging road along the ridge and continue south into Sawmill Draw. When you reach the sawmill and French Creek follow the creek downstream to CSP 4 and the curved bridge. Turn left (east) and follow CSP 4 back to Horse Camp. An alternate (green dash-line trail on the map) to Calkins Draw is to continue down French Creek to the trail leading south out of French Creek to Fisherman’s Flat. Once out of the canyon take the road CSP 2 (the portion of CSP 2 going west is closed to traffic) past the green gate back to CSP 4, turn right on CSP 4 and head back to French Creek Horse Camp.

TRAIL #2 - BIG TREE & ROBBERS ROOST DRAW

(Blue) Riding time: 4 hours

Ride out of Horse Camp to the south and follow the Centennial Trail to the Wildlife Loop Road (CSP 1). Turn left (east) and follow the road for about 2 miles until you reach a sign pointing left (north) up a draw. Follow the fire trail up this draw about 1/4 mile to the Big Tree. Continue to follow the trail markers north to an intersection where the trail turns right (east) and climbs a rocky hill. At the top of the hill turn right again (south) and follow the ridge to the next intersection. Ride the left fork (to the east) and down Robber's Roost draw. Follow the draw south to CSP 3. Ride left (northeast) on CSP 3 until the road intersects CSP 4. Turn left (northwest) and ride CSP 4 back to Horse Camp.

TRAIL #3 - PARKER CANYON

(Brown) Riding time: 4 hours

Ride south out of Horse Camp on the Centennial Trail. When you reach the Wilderness Loop Road (CSP 1) cross the road and turn right (west) and follow the trail up the hill. From the crest you will be able to see the Blue Bell entrance station. Ride along the Loop Road towards the station, angling southeast as you near the highway (SD Hwy. 87). The best place to cross Hwy. 87 is approximately 100 yards south of the station, where CSP 342 intersects the blacktop. Trail markers will direct you south into Parker Canyon. As you ride south through the canyon, you will again intersect Hwy. 87. Cross the road and ride east up the hill to a large meadow. Trail markers will bring you to the Centennial Trail. Follow it left (north) to Horse Camp.

Parker Canyon was named after a family that homesteaded here in the late 1800’s. Springs keep this area wet, and provide water for bison, deer, elk and other wildlife.

RACETRACK BUTTE & BUFFALO CORRALS

Riding time: 5 hours

(This ride is not highlighted on the map.)

Ride out of Horse Camp to the southeast on CSP 4. At the intersection with CSP 2, turn left and follow CSP 2 across the ridge and down to Racetrack Butte (about 4 1/2 miles). From the top of the butte you can see the buffalo corrals to the south. Those corrals are used in the fall round-up and the November buffalo auction. Ride off the butte towards the corrals and intersect CSP 3. Ride right (west) along CSP 3 to CSP 4. Take CSP 4 back to Horse Camp.
